

ANTARCTICA

COMMUNITY NIGHT

Wednesday, April 5th

6:00pm-7:00pm

Washington-Lee Little Theater

Ms. Miller just got back from a month-long expedition to the South Pole where she worked as a teacher-researcher the IceCube Neutrino Observatory.

Join Ms. Miller and her students to:

- Hear what life is like in one of the most extreme, remote locations on earth
- Learn about the science of neutrinos & project IceCube
- Try on Extreme Cold Weather (ECW) gear that scientists wear in Antarctica
- Test your knowledge of Antarctic fun facts

Everyone is welcome – all ages, all grades, all science abilities!

Kate Miller is a physics teacher at Washington-Lee High School in Arlington, VA. She travelled to the South Pole as a teacher-researcher through PolarTREC, funded by the National Science Foundation (NSF).
