

RUTH BADER GINSBURG

Her name was Ruth
She told the truth.
She fought for women's rights
All day and all night.
She saw signs against the Jews
She disapproved.

When she went to bed
She dreamed of a day
Where girls could say, hey
I'm going to work.

Could you take
Care of the girls?
'this my kind of world.

She wasn't wanted.
She was taunted.
She stuck up for herself.
She didn't have to be
Like anyone else.
